Tuesday, Oct. 19. THE OPIUM SEIZURES AT SAIGON-ACTION AGAINST THE DECIMA. This was a claim for damages for detention of the steamer Decima trading under a charter obtained by the Lee Wing On Company, the detention being caused by the soizure of opium made by the officers of the opium farmer at Saigon in April The plaintiff was Su Cheong of the Lee Wing On firm, and the defendants Peter Oestmann, captain of the Decima and Die Flensburger Dampischiffahrt's Gesell-ichaft von 1869. Mr Francis, Q.C., instructed by Mr Stephens, appeared for the plaintiff; and the Acting Attorney General, instructed by Mr Wilson, of Messra-Wotton and Deacon, appeared for the defendants.

Mr Francis-The pleadings in this case are as follows-The plaintiff is a trader residing at Hongkong and carrying on business under the firm name of Lee Wing

On & Co. The defendants are Cestmann, the master of the S. S. Decima, and Die Flensburger Dampfschiffahrt's Gesellschaft von 1869, a company of ateamship owners carrying on business at Flensburg. By a certain agreement or charter party, to which the plaintiff craves leave to refer, dated the 9th Docomber 1885 entered into between Messra Siemssen & Co. agents and the captain and owners of the THE cases before the Police Court this S. S. Decima on the one part and the some cents in her hand, and put his hand other than stress of weather then the paywarranted in the first clause of the charter. It was on the 25th day of February 1886 further agreed that the charterers have the period of two months after the expiration of the stipulated four months, but freight in that case to be $3,500 for each month for the last two months. The steamer Decima under this charter traded between Hongkong and Saigon, and on a voyage from Hongkong to Saigon arrived at the latter port on the 4th day of April 1886. Immediately on the arrival of the steamer the inward cargo was discharged and the steamer was ready to receive the outward cargo for Hongkong on Monday the 5th April 1886. But on that day the steamer was seized and detained at Saigon at the instance of the agents of the Regie d'Opium. and on the 10th April the Court of Saigon pronounced judgment against the defendant and condemned the defendant, Peter Oestmann, to 15 days' imprisonment and the payment of $10,000 as fine and $10,000 damages for having in his possession 500 tauls of prohibited opium on board. The loading of the steamer with cargo for Hongkong was completed on or about the 14th April 1886, but owing to the default of the defendant Peter Oestmann causing the seizure and detention of the steamer the loading of the steamer with cargo for Hongkong was not completed at as early a date as it otherwise would have been. In consequence of this default and by reason of the seizure, the steamer did not leave Saigon until on or about the 6th day of May 1886 and did not arrive in Hongkong until on or about the 11th of May With the consent and on behalf of the plaintiff in order to obtain delivery of the cargo the sum of $2,599,20 was paid to Mesers Siemssen & Co. agents for the defendants by one Choy Chan or his agent, subject however to the right of the other British merchants, who, contrary to plaintiff to recover the amount of charter money during the period the steamer was so detained in Saigon. By reason of the facts mentioned the plaintiff, considering that he has sustained considerable loss and damage, prays that the defendants may be ordered to pay to the plaintiff the sum of $3,233.33, with interest thereon at the rate.

option of renewing the charter for a further payment of the sum until judgment shall be Mr Francis, continuing, said-You will see that the plaintiff claims on a charter, which should have been at our disposal for a complete period of four months; and the breach of charter that we allege is that she was detained in Saigon 28 days. She was detained there 30 days, but two days we're occupied in loading the cargo so that the absolute detention was 28 days. We maintain that that detention was entirely caused by the seizure of the ship and the legal proceedings against the Captain for having prohibited opium on board. The answer to the petition was then read by Mr Francis. It admitted the preliminundertaker, who left his card and expressed

They contended that the steamer was detained by certain regulations of the Government respecting opium, and that the detention was therefore for the account of charterers. They contended that if any opium was found on board the steamer, it was on account of the negligonce of the supercargo. All the cargo. should have beentallied in and out by the charterer, and if there was any opium on board notin themanifest it was the fault of the charterer. They contended further that this opium was put on board by one of the charteror's agents. They would lay evidence to that effect and would contend that the charterer was responsible for his agent. The defendants could not be made responsible for something which one of the charterer's agents had committed when the defendants had no control over it. Captain Peter Cestman said—I am the master of the German steamship Decima. She was chartered to Messra Lee Wing & Co. I arrived last at Saigon under that charter on the 4th April. I had sailed from Hongkong on the 29th March. I had a general cargo and about 238 passengers. I know the import of the charter party. The charterers, supercargo and tallymen recabin rooms and mess rooms; the rest of the ship was for the charterer. There was some deck cargo. The provisions and food for the coolies were provided by the charterer with the exception of water. The provisions were kept in the after betweendecks. The charterer's cooks that were on board were in charge of these provisions. The supercargo was in charge of feeding the passengers and looking after the provisions. The 4th of April when I arrived was a Sunday. We could not then discharge cargo. Policemen came on board. They stayed there. I began to land my passengers on Monday morning early. They were taken ashore to a small police station. I have been prezent at the landing of passengers. Every one has to open his trunks and the customs' people examine all his effects. BRITAIN'S POLICY IN AFGHANISTAN. (From the 'Pioncer.') One hears a good deal from time to time of the folly and even danger of subsidising the Amir of Kabul and of filling Afghanistan with arms and ammunition hereafter to be used against our own soldiers. There is, it must be admitted, something in the argument, omphasised as it is by reference to Shere Alf and the events which culminated in the Afghan-war of 1878-80 but those who argue most strongly always fail to suggest any other line of policy which would not have even more serious drawbacks. Let Afghanistan stew in its own juice and trust in our strong natural frontier' is one suggestion; but with the Russians actually within striking distance of Herat and steadily maturing their plans for a further move southwards this plan is absolutely untenable. It would mean that Afghanistan would be absorbed into the Asiatic Empire of the Czar in a very fewyears, and the whole available fighting population would be lured by promises of plunder to join with the Cossaek host in the invasion of India. It may be urged that the Russians would exhaust themselves in the conquest of Afghanistan and would be unequal to a further advance; but their rapid progress eastwards from the Aral and Caspian Seas shows that they well understand how to conquer Asiatic races with Wharves at Kowloon, and Land, Re-ship, little or no loss to themselves. The maxim and/or Store General Cargoes, Silk, of Skobeleff, 'kill every one in fight or in Opium, Cotton, Grain or Merchandise in flight; but no bloodshed afterwards, is First-Class Granite Godowns at Cheap Rates. one which every Russian officer and Also Coars in specially constructed Sheds. soldier has now adopted in Asiatic warfare; and if it be acted up to, the sub- Storers the Company's launch Hongkong will jugation of even such a warlike race as convey to and fro those interested FREE OF that holding Afghanistan would not be CHARGE, starting from the Pedder's Wharf and Conditions. difficult of nehievement. Skobeleff slew EVERY HOUR from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m., and men, women, and children indiscriminately from the Wharf at Kowloon at the half- ceived, and transmitted to the Directors at Gook Tene during the attack and pur- hour. suit, and broke for ever the power of the Akhal Tokes. There has scarcely been a shot fired since between the Caspian and The terror thus inspired led the Mery elders to submit voluntarily almost immediately; they had boasted of their prowess and of the invincible position of the ex 'Queen of the World,' but they were panic-stricken after the massacre of Gook Tope and hastened to save themselves while there was yet time. As in the past with the Turkomans so- it would be in the future with the Afghans, that is, if the Afghans were left to stand alone and were not backed by a British Army and encouraged to resist in Asia white Russia's power was being broken elsewhere. The Russians, for instance, would storm Herat if the garrison did not evacuate the place, and signalise their victory by a massacre so bloody that it would appal all Afghanistan. Thereafter there would never be found an Afghan force that would consent to being shut up in a fortress. Were the Afghans to take to guerilla-warfare the Russians would not adopt the tactics of burning a village here and there while sparing all but those actually found in arms they would repeat the awful example which MacGahan saw in Russian Turkistan, devastate whole tracts of country, and kill off whole tribes even to the old men, the women, and the children. Thus it must be admitted that the policy of leaving the Afghans to stew in their own juice would mean facilitating the occupation of the country by Russia. The British Government in what it is now doing is not merely subsidising the Amir, but convincing the Afghan people themselves of our honest desire to see them independent, and our equally honest intention to aid them in repelling all aggression from the North. There may be an element of selfishness in fact there is a very great element of the safety of India has to be provided for at all signed is requested, when immediate steps Floor Two Handsome Plate-Glass Shor costs; but all the same the benefit to Afghanistan is by no means sniall. She can rest assured that the old invasions of 1878 -80 are not likely to be repeated; in any new invasion thearmy from India will be an ally and not an enemy, and old feuds will be forgotten in the face of a common for. We have been led to make these remarks not from any fresh development of the Central Asian Question, nor from any specific act done by the Amir; but because information gathered in every part of Afghanistau, from the Khyber to Kandahar, from Herat to Cabul, shows a new feeling springing of among the people themselves and parti cularly among the more powerful tribal leaders. This feeling is one of openly avowed friendship towards the English and a belief in our honesty of purpose, even though Russia may have scored a success in the Boundary business. The old bitter hatred has died out, and so has much of the distrust engendered by Sir Peter Lumsden's blunders in the Murghab Valley, though there are certain Aighan officials who seem to have accepted Russian gold and to be bent upon discrediting the English in every way. It is to be hoped that the friendly feeling among the people themselves will grow steadily and become a new factor, certainly an important one, inour calculations of the future of Central Asia. It should be fostered and encourage at the Sailor's Home, West Point. ed in every way, at the same time that the Amir's sovereign rights are studiously respected; and then, when the time of trouble comes, whether by the death of Abdur Rahman or by war with Russia, we shall not find a war people in arms to a man against us, as they have been in years gone by.
